Dear Friends

On behalf of the Directors of The Center for International Health and Cooperation (CIHC), I am pleased to offer, once again, the International Diploma in Humanitarian Assistance (IDHA) in Château de Bossey, near Geneva, long-recognized as one of the world centers of humanitarian leadership. The IDHA is a core program of the CIHC, and is done in cooperation with Fordham University, the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland and the United Nations System Staff College.

The Center for International Health and Cooperation (CIHC) was founded in 1992 to promote healing and peace in countries shattered by natural disasters, armed conflicts and ethnic violence. The Center employs its resources and unique personal contacts to stimulate interest in humanitarian issues and to promote innovative educational programs and training models. Our extensive list of publications and regular symposia address both the basic issues and emerging challenges of humanitarian assistance.

The IDHA serves the United Nations and other international humanitarian agencies and organizations. Over nine hundred and fifty IDHA graduates from some 121 nations now hold leading positions in humanitarian operations around the world.
